Subject: Park Named in Honour of Jim Barrington Proposal

Dear Mayor and Council.

Several years ago I appeared before Council and proposed that the parkland at the southwest corner of Delta and Halifax be developed and named in honour of Jim Barrington, a past Coucillor of Burnaby and Freeman of Burnaby. This was subsequently passed to the Parks and Culture Committe and never saw the light of day again. I have made repeated calls to the Mayor's Office and the Clerks Office and I have been referred to the historian at Parks as well. To date I have not recieved a satisfactory answer as to what has happened to this proposal other than it seems to have fallen into the cracks at City Hall.

I would very much appreciate this matter be resurrected and placed on Coucil agenda and given the due respect that Jim Barrington so well deserves for his unselfish dedication to the City of Burnaby for the many years that he served on Council.

I wish to appear at Council as a delegation on this matter.

Darcy Olson
